“Committed to Excellence in Dentistry”

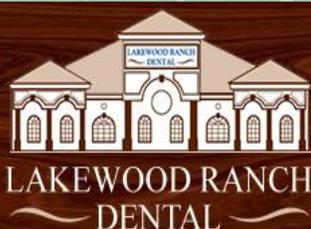

Your mouth is a window to your body

There is a connection between your oral health and your systemic health, or your entire body health. In fact, disease in your mouth can lead to a greater risk for heart disease, stroke and disease of your brain, pancreas, and so much more. On the other hand, a healthy mouth is linked to a longer, happier, healthier life. This is why keeping up with your dental appointments at Lakewood Ranch Dental is so important. We are here to help you catch decay early before treatment becomes more involved. Ignoring dental problems will not cause them to go away. Issues in your mouth will not go away unless they are taking care of. Unfortunately, treatment will become more involved. You can't brush, floss or fluoride treat a cavity away. Cavities will get larger, and your gum disease surely won't go away on its own. Your cavity could get so big that it may need a root canal or it may need to be extracted because not enough tooth is left to be saved. Its also important to remember that just because your teeth don't hurt, doesn't mean that nothing is wrong. You always want to make sure you keep up with your hygiene appointments (at least every 6 months) so the hygienist and doctor can help prevent oral health issues before they become more involved.
